Tips From the Chief of Police

Locking your vehicles is a topic that we try to share from time to time since it is still an issue for us. We are seeing an increase in these types of crimes all over town in both residential and commercial settings.

The bottom line is that opportunistic thieves will eventually find your unlocked vehicles and steal anything and everything of value. Many items taken will be taken initially and thrown away later. These items will have a value to you but not to the thief. Sadly when it's gone, it's gone.

So lock the doors on your cars and trucks every time you park; just make it a habit. You should never leave your cars and trucks running unattended. Keep your valuables or even cheap items out of sight; utilize your trunk or under seat storage areas. An even better solution would be to take your valuable with you. Use your vehicle alarm as a deterrent. Try not to park in isolated or dimly lit areas.

Please help us help you!

Happy 100 Years to the Trenton Rotary Club

The Trenton Rotary Club will be celebrating 100 years of "Service Above Self" with a special celebration on March 9 in the Cross Hall Coffee Shop on the NCMC campus. Members, guests and Rotary dignitaries will be gathering to honor the club's efforts to help make the world a better place, both locally and globally.

The Trenton Rotary Club was formed during a meeting on March 6, 1923 and received its charter during a ceremony on April 27, with 18 charter members receiving their certificates of membership. A banquet honoring the occasion was held in the Baptist Church with more than 100 Rotarians, their wives and guests present.

D.C. McVay served as the club's first president and since that time 99 members have served in that role. E. Cook was the only president to serve two consecutive terms from 1942 to 1944. The current president is Michael Ormsby. Trenton has also had two district governors – R. Leroy Miller in 1958-59 and Rev. A.L. Palmer in 1968-69. Trenton served as host to the district convention during Miller's term in 1959.

The club has been very active during its 100 years of existence, spearheading or assisting with numerous projects to benefit the community and surrounding area. In the early days, club members were responsible for making the first city street signs in the machine shop of Rotarian Charles Holmes, who also provided his shop to refurbish an Army vehicle used by the Trenton Fire Department. The shelterhouse near the World War memorial at Moberly Park was constructed by the Rotary Club, which has also provided playground equipment at Eastside Park for handicapped children as well as providing funds and labor to build portable stages used by the North Central Missouri Fair. Other local projects have included construction of a storage area at Rissler Elementary School for Bright Futures Trenton, installation of a recycling bin in conjunction with Easter's Variety Store, co-sponsorship of a Kids Identification project with McDonald's and the Trenton Police Department, a fifth and sixth grade basketball tournament (in cooperation with the Kiwanis and Lions clubs) to benefit middle school athletics, hosting football tailgates to benefit high school football and band, sponsoring local students to attend Boys State and Freedom Forum, volunteering at the food pantry, ringing the bell at Christmas time for the Salvation Army and sponsoring the annual Missouri Day Festival Parade, organizing entries and providing judges.

The club holds a fish fry yearly to raise funds for contribution to Rotary International projects. These efforts, along with individual contributions made by members, have resulted in the club being designated a 100 percent Paul Harris Fellow Club, one of only 13 clubs in the 52-club 6040 Rotary District. Paul Harris was the founder of Rotary International and designation as a Paul Harris Fellow is given to individuals who support the ideals of Rotary. A $1,000 contribution is made to Rotary International in their honor.

The local club has been a supporter from Day 1 of the district's "Shoes for Orphan Souls" project, working with Buckner International of Dallas, TX to provide shoes, socks and shoe laces to children in need in foreign countries served by Buckner. In the past three years, the club has also included the Bright Futures Trenton shoe project in its efforts, helping to provide shoes for local youth as well. The eradication of Polio has been a top priority of Rotary International and the Trenton club has supported those efforts by raising $11,000 in two separate campaigns to help make the world polio-free.

The club has been a long-time participant in Rotary's Student Exchange Program, hosting many high school students over the years from countries such as Spain, Mexico, Germany, South Africa and Hungary, with local Rotarians and other families serving as host families. Trenton resident Amy Whitaker (now Currie) was sponsored by the local club in 199 to spend the school year in Mexico as a guest of the Heimsatz family, who has sent two of their children to live in Trenton as exchange students.

As the club celebrates its centennial year of service, members intend to continue to render service to the community while maintaining the ideals of Rotary and assisting in district and international projects.
